As you are well aware, commodity costs in general can vary significantly month to month. Specifically, as it relates to Nickel, the LME Nickel Cash Average Price was above the base of $3.00/LB, and Copper was above the base of $0.50/LB. Typical surcharges in place for FeCrAl alloys have been adjusted for the month. Also, in light of current Tariffs, the surcharges will be increased until further notice. Consequently, the metal surcharges will apply for all orders shipped during remainder of August 2025:
